RE: R11782

Dear Pamela:

Please accept my sincere thanks for retrieving the data from our hard drive. When we discovered that lightning had damaged our computer, we were in a state of panic. Our local technicians were unable to access the drive, so we searched the net for help, and fortunately discovered Advanced Data Solutions.

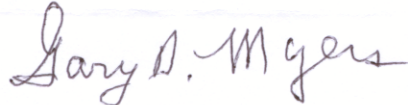

Once we shipped the hard drive to you, it was only a matter of hours after you received it that you told us that it appeared that you would be able to retrieve the data. Then, when you had confirmed the retrieved data, it was shipped to us overnight here on the East Coast.

You may know how much worked you saved us by salvaging , but you need to know also, just how relieved we were to be able to re-install the data and start entering information we had accumulated since the lightning storm.

If anyone wants to talk to us about the work you did for us, please feel free to give them our phone number or our address.

Thanks you, again.

Yours truly,

Gary D. Myers
